1. Kelly Blackford and Dean Havran cheer from the sidelines as they await their opportunity to eat "Tiger meat".

3. D-E-F-E-N-S-E, what's that spell? Defense, defense, defense!

2. Jolene Feldt is caught by surprise as Sara DeCook helps her with her books.

4. "Lights, camera, action!" can be heard from the stage as Mary Boatwright looks on from the booth in "You can't take it with you."

Building a rainbow --- that's what students at Hoover have been doing this year. Each of us have added a different color, a new piece, or another dimension to our lives. Some feel that their part is getting up and being here every morning, while others want to and need to be more involved.

2-Opening

The rainbow can symbolize a school, even Hoover. In a complete rainbow, there are two actual bows. The primary bow, where the brightest colors, are found, and the secondary bow which contain the less distinct colors. The thing is, the rainbow is only a partial rainbow if one of these bows is missing.

1. What are they wearing in Paris? Well, Missy Bruce and Lori Robinson model the latest style in a brief fashion show before school.

2. Tracy Parks proudly displays her bronze medal after her spectacular performance in the Girls State Cross Country meet at Ames.

3. Sophomore cheerleaders perform their "Rocky" cheer in hope that the Huskies will "knock-down" another opponent.

1. "The Adams Family" receives a pep talk from head coach Bert Adams before an important game.

2. Miss Bo-Peep, Julie Peterson is just one of the many "babes" in "Babes in Toyland".

3. Seniors Julie Cook, Dana Wilson, Cindy Isenhardt, and Kathy Diment display three different ways to catch a man, timid, sexy, and vivacious.

In other words, Hoover depends upon each of its 1374 students to be complete.

1979 erupted into a flurry of activities. For freshmen and sophomores, the first few days were spent adjusting to a new school, and finding lockers and classes. For the rest of us it was spent finding friends and catching up on summer gossip.

This year the sophomores are no longer the youngest or the newest faces to Hoover. This "privilege" has been handed down to ... ta-da ... the freshmen. This new breed of high school life is a group of kids who are learning to adjust to high school a year earlier than others.

1. All faces watch the proceedings of the Homecoming assembly, as Tom Aceto and Mark Amick discuss the antics of "Kingenberg's" reign.

2. Mary Sanderson, Debbie Linn, and the Sophomore cheerleaders lead the new freshmen in their first recital of the school song.

1. Chris Eshelmann, Laurie Frantz, and Kim Beaty share a piece of juicy gossip in the hall during passing period.

2. "What's the password?" seems to be the question on Ken Smalley's mind as he mans the stage door in a sneak preview of "Babes in Toyland." "Quiet," says Cheri Melton.

3. Kathy Rogers and Kristen Beal share a laugh during one of Hoover's rowdy open houses.

As for upperclassmen we begin to get the first twinge of "senioritis" midway through our junior year and it grows until near the end of our senior year, when we start reflecting over the past three years and looking toward the future. Many can remember those mornings it was all too easy to "not feel well" and catch up on extra sleep or get some important homework done, or even make a yearbook deadline.

The beginning of school brings hot, muggy weather. To conserve energy, the thermostats are set at 75 degrees, which doesn't help the "sticky" situation students find themselves in. Little did we expect to want some of that hot weather back during the cold winter months that would come all too soon and see thermostats plunge to 65 degrees by order of President Carter.

1. Students look on with fear and amazement as Mr. Moore plays with a pet tarantula during biology.

2. Students' faces reflect their different reactions to a sneak preview of "You Can't Take It With You."

3. Cast members lay it on thick — the makeup that is — before the premier of "You Can't Take It With You."

4. Julie McIntosh models, "the bald look" during a Hoover swimming meet.

2. Newly-crowned Homecoming Queen Christy Ulin beams with excitement following her coronation.

3. Quarterback Steve Doten receives last minute strategy from head coach Howard Justice.

4. Jeff Bringenberg and Christy Ulin sit in the Homecoming King and Queen throws while they receive a standing ovation from the school.

5. Hoover students "Fire-up" for a victory over Tech at the annual bonfire.

6. Karen Kucera finds it difficult to choose a winner in the newly-created "Best Freshman Cake" division of the annual cake off.

7. The Huskies signify they're number one after winning their first Homecoming football game in six years.

8-Opening

As a school, Hoover is well-represented in sports. Our football team has its best season since 1973, finishing at 5-2 in the conference and 6-3 overall. The volleyball team tops the Metro and goes on to state. Tracy Parks leads the cross country teams as she finishes third in the state meet and the girls swimming team ranks high in the state.

1. Dan Brown explains to some underclassmen what a touchdown is at a football game.

2. Kim Beaty, under the spotlight at a sophomore assembly, shows her ability to jump higher than anyone else.

3. Juniors Tim Beachy and Craig Davidson try to ease the pain of another tough assignment.

The boy's basketball team is rated number one and the girl's team is rated high early after knocking off East High and spoiling their 34-game winning streak.

4. Seniors Roberta Wheeler and Dianne Avgerinos take time out to wet their whistles before cheering on the boy's and girl's cross country teams.

Homecoming '79 shows the students at Hoover have "magic in their souls." Surely the royal court must have felt a certain magic at being chosen by their peers. For the first time in six years, Hoover wins their Homecoming game. That magical night of romance called the Homecoming Dance follows with graduate Ben Ulin doing some sleight of hand to the delight of many.

1. Samuelson students brave the cold and ice to watch a performance by the Hoover Theatre dept.

2. Jill Truslow, Roberta Wheeler, and Laura Gaulke attempt to stir up some enthusiasm from the Hoover crowd.

3. Senior Doug Langbehn takes it easy during a break in his classes.

4. Tracy Tighe strikes a contemplative pose during a journalism field trip to Iowa City.

1. Mr. Ron Battani presents Sue Martin with a certificate declaring her a member of the McDonald's All-American High School Band as her parents look on.

2. Senior Scott Reynolds heads for the Gatorade during a short break in football action.

3. Sean Bell and Dave Pagliai realize it is true-they can't lie to Mr. Battani.

Des Moines gets the pleasure of being the host to an important guest on October 4. Pope John Paul II arrives in Des Moines and in four short hours captures the spirit of "The Surprising Place" after visiting a small church in Cummings and The Living History Farms in Urbandale.

1. Cross country managers Joleen Olds and Mary Sanderson flash smiles at the camera after the state meet.

2. Dungeon dwellers Dianne Avgerinos, Sandy Derby, Christy Ulin, and Kathy Diment have mixed feelings on a ref's decision during a basketball game at Hoover.

3. Sam Reed and Beth Brown plan a mischievous deed as H.H.S. SUPER FANS.

4. While clowning around in the deep, dark, south wing, Beth Brown, Diane Battrick, and Dawn Saylor eagerly take time out to pose.

1. Lane Henkel (82) looks on as Bruce Sikkink (85) shows his excitement about the refs decision on another Steve Doten touchdown.

2. Cindy Isenhardt, Dana Wilson, and Anita Huntoon show different emotions as they watch a football player run by.

3. You've heard of "James at 16," well on Mary Schmidt's 18th Birthday she was "Tardy at 18."

1. The Student Center is a place for relaxing and sharing a laugh or two with friends.

2. As the fall sports come to a close, girls basketball warms up.

3. Center Tim Anderson "shoots for two" while an East player looks on in awe.

1. Newly crowned Homecoming King Jeff Bringenberg kisses his queen, Christy Ulin.

2. Spirited Hoover students, who shall remain nameless, kidnapped a small Tech student for their winning entry in the car rally.

3. Hoover student council members eagerly take turns shoveling the pit for the Homecoming Tree.

STUDENT LIFE

'Magic' highlights Homecoming

The 1979 Homecoming Dance is a new and unique experience due to the successful job of Chairperson Eric Grant. "Could It Be Magic" is highlighted by Ben Ulin, who does a number of magic shows throughout the evening. "The Last Shades of Dawn" provide excellent dancing music for the two hundred couples who attend. Seniors Christy Ulin and Jeff Bringenberg are crowned Queen and King at the assembly and later lead the attendants in a dance to the theme song. The Homecoming Court is represented by Freshman attendants Karen Nissly and Jeb Dykstra, sophomore attendants Laurie Krantz and Paul Boehm, and junior attendants Kristen Beal and Doug Garton. Homecoming Dance 1979 proves to be one of the best yet.

1. Homecoming queen Christy Ulin poses proudly with her date Tim Anderson.

2. Lisa Gaule and her date discuss the magic of Homecoming.

3. Tracy Parks and Dan Hedlund boogie to the "Last Shades of Dawn".

1. Mark Parkhurst and date share a romantic moment at the 1979 Homecoming Dance.

2. Keith Trumbo and Ann McLaughlin show enthusiasm after indulging in some refreshments.

3. Marla Touch and Dave Schatz watch in awe as magic feats are performed.

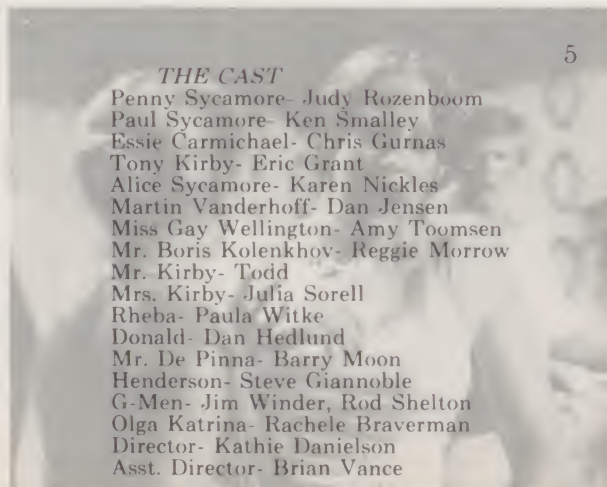

4. Hoover alum Pat O'Keefe and Senior Cheri Melton take a break from the dance floor to discuss after dance plans.

You really can't take it with you

Audiences at Hoover discover that plays can be educational as well as entertaining as they view the Drama Department's first production of the 1979-80 season, "You Can't Take It With You", a comedy about the crazy antics of the Sycamore family. The basic theme of the play is that "money can't buy happiness", and that the only way for a person to be happy is to be himself.

This show, done in 3 acts, has many hilarious characters, among them an elderly lush, Miss Gay Wellington, The Grand Duchess, Olga Katrina, and a Russian ballet instructor, Boris Kolenkhov. The Sycamore family itself also contains many colorful characters. Ed Carmichael is a xylophone playing jack of all trades, and his wife, Essie, has only one ambition, to be a famous dancer. Penny Sycamore, Essie's mother, wants to be a writer. The only trouble is it took her 8 years to learn how to type. Alice, the only sane member of the family is in love with a rich young executive, Tony Kirby, whos family does not approve at all of the Sycamores, and Martin Vanderhoff, the head of the household, is the most unique of all. He never pays taxes, he raises snakes, and he influences the other members of his family to do their own thing too. In a touching scene in the third act, Martin convinces stuffy Mr. Kirby that his happiness means more than money. The audience leaves with the feeling that while they were laughing and enjoying themselves they may have learned something. This first play of the year once again illustrates that Hoover Theatre will remain, in the immortal words of director, Kathie Danielson, one notch above high school drama.

"Toyland" invades the Hoover Stage

Grown ups remember what it's like to be a kid again, and kids are delighted as they view the Hoover Drama Department's second production of the 1979-80 season, "Babes in Toyland". Directed by Mrs. Kathie Danielson, "Babes in Toyland" is a childrens musical about what happens when storybook characters like Tom, Tom, the Pipers son, and Mary, Mary, Quite Contrary run away to the magical world of Toyland.

Grown ups and children alike are swept away by this enchanting play as they follow the characters through the scary Spider Forest, and the magical Toyland. The play is highlighted by several musical numbers, including "Lemonade", "Hail to Toyland", "I Can't Do the Sum", and, of course, the title song, "Toyland".

The cast of over 50 Hoover students has the audiences laughing at one moment and sympathizing with the heroes at the next. Especially enjoyed by all seemed to be the numbers "Floretta", done by Alan (alias Mark Moser) in a gypsy skirt, and the "Dance Excentrique" a ballet dance done by Gonzorgo and Roderigo (Ken Smalley, and Randy Hager) in tu-tus. When, in the end, our heroes foil the nasty villain Barnaby by giving him water from the laughing water well and throwing him into fits of giggles, all in the audience sigh with relief.

"Babes in Toyland" is a lightheated, entertaining play, and as the audiences leave and the cast sings the grand finale, and adults have the distinct feeling that, at least for a couple of hours, they have been kids again, visiting a faraway, magical place.

1. The evil Barnaby (Dan Jensen) looks to the widow (Julia Sorell) for help in paying his imaginary bills.

2. Jane, Alan, Mary (Mary Sanderson), Gonzorgo, and Roderigo look on happily after Barnaby drinks from the laughing water well.

3. Tom (Barry Moon) is backed up by the entire girls chorus as he sings about his beloved Jane.

4. Hilda (Debbie Linn) seems surprised at the appearance of Alan and Jane (Mark Moser and Marlene Priebnow) in their gypsy disguises.

5. The entire cast finally succeeds in cheering up Bo-Peep (Julie Peterson) after she loses her sheep.

6. Alan (Mark Moser) shows off his ballet skills in the gypsy dance "Floredda".

7. In a more serious moment, Gonzorgo (Ken Smalley) and Roderiqo (Randy Hager) get out the tu tu's and let off some steam.

Open houses spark many moods

This years open houses reflect the various personalities of Hoover students. Types of music range from hard rock to disco to the ever popular slow dance. The highlights of every open house is senior Tim Perry with his rendition of Free Bird. Disc jockeys include professionals from KRNQ and some semi-professionals from right here at Hoover. Open houses provide entertainment for many students after exciting basketball and football games and also after the traditional student/faculty basketball game. Unfortunately, some saw open houses as a place for uncalled for behavior after consuming mass quantities of alcohol and/or controlled substances.

1. Karen Kucera flashes a happy smile as she boogies to the disco beat.

This matter was discussed at student council with Mr. Wells voicing his concern and warning of no more open houses in future years if the problem continued. However, overall the open houses were a huge success and a great fund raiser for student council.

2. Julie Sorrell and Biology teacher Mr. Moore show a serious side to Hoover open houses.

3. Jayne Grummert shows her unique style of dancing.

Santa spreads holiday cheer

This year's Christmas dance is highlighted by a surprise visit from Mr. and Mrs. Claus, portrayed by Ann McLaughlin and Kris Woods respectively. Music is provided by student disc jockey Reggie Morrow, who plays the top 40 to the enjoyment of all. This event proves to be senior Board's most successful fund raising project as it is every year. Greg Witke, senior board president, states "the dance was a real success. We netted around $200." The Christmas Dance raises the spirits of the students who attend, putting them in the mood for the Holidays ahead. The annual tradition of this dance once again spreads Christmas cheer throughout the halls of Hoover.

1. Junior Barry Moon sweeps senior Mary Sanderson off her feet as the crowd looks on.

2. Anita Huntoon flashes a smile to the camera after telling Santa what she really wants for Christmas.

3. Mr. and Mrs. Claus (alias Ann McLaughlin and Kris Woods), take time out for a dance.

4. Junior Kathy Propps and Sam Smith show their stuff at the Christmas dance.

“Shrew” pairs students and faculty

“When is a teacher not a teacher? When he is a cast member in Hoover’s third production of the 1979-1980 season.” This is one of the opinions expresses by asst. Director Julia Sorell about “The Taming of the Shrew”. Audiences are entertained not only be a talented group of student actors, but also by a group of madrigal singers and special acting debuts by Hoover teachers Mr. Davis, Mr. Leventhal, and Mr. Craft. As an added treat, former Hoover drama teacher Ron Danielson comes back for a special appearance in the role of Petruchio. The story centers around a girl named Katherine who is so untamed that people call her a shrew. The way in which Petruchio finally tames Katherine (and she tames him) unfolds into one of William Shakespeare’s most amusing comedies. This play, directed by Mrs. Kathie Danielson, follows in the Hoover theatre tradition of excellence and is enlightening and entertaining to all who attend.

1. Mr. Craft alias Vincentio greets the audience with a friendly gesture and introduces the performance in Shakespearean style.

2. While an unsuspecting Hortensio (Jeff Bates) tunes his improvised lute, Lucentio (Dan Jensen) woos the fair Bianca (Mary Sanderson).

3. “Nay, come again, Good Kate; I am a gentleman” states Petruchio as he stalks the shrewish Katherine.

1. Petruchio (Mr. Danielson) explains the facts of life to an interested Baptista (Mr. Davis).

2. Hortensio (Jeff Bates) and his faithful servant Gremio (Jim Winder) ponder over a plan to win the hand of the young flower, Bianca.

3. Petruchio must see something Kate (Rachelle Braverman) doesn't as they gaze upon the stars.

On February 16, 1980, 135 couples glide across the Hoover Student Center to the sounds of Jackson/Crowson. The theme of this years Spring Dance is "Love Is . . .". The Studet Center is decorated with spring colored tissue flowers, silver balls hanging from the ceiling, plus the traditional cupids and hearts. The centerpeices, as usual, are snatched up and souvenirs before the majority of the dancegoers arrive.

This year coming to the dance stag is encouraged by the committee, and the two students who do come stag have just as much fun as the others. As the band takes a break, the assembly begins with Tim Brown being named "Student For All Seasons". Rounding off the Senior For All Seasons candidates are: Tim Anderson, Christy Ulin, Greg Witke, and Cindy Isenhardt. The females make a clean sweep of the other grades as Tracy Parks, Julie Peterson, and Lisa Ward are named junior, sophomore, and freshman "Student For All Seasons," respectively.

And the winner is . . . Tim Brown!

1. Faculty sponsor Ms. Thune gets involved with the decorating of the dance.

2. Spring Dance chairman Anita Huntoon attempts to explain to Mandy Gillaspey what in the heck is going on.

3. "I know what I'm doing!" protests junior Wendell Griffis, as assisstant chairman Kim Kearney tries to give directions.

1. Spring Dance this year is semiformal as students display quite an array of fashions.

2. Jill Truslow and Steve Doten "get down" to the music of Jackson/Crowson.

3. Tracy Parks, Tim Brown, Cindy Isenhardt, Greg Wilke, Julie Peterson, Tim Anderson, Christy Ulin, and Lisa Ward make-up the Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, and Senior For All Seasons Winners.

1. Flustered Horace Vandergelder (Ken Smalley) tries to talk to old, deaf Gertrude (Sara Hyde).

2. Mrs. Dolly Levi (Heather Wacha) tells Ambrose Kemper (Eric Grant) what life is all about.

4. Irene Molloy (Mel Brown) and Minnie Fay (Marlene Priebnow) encourage Cornelius Hackl (John Hagerty) and Barbaby Tucker (Randy Hager) to sing a song.

6. Horace Vandergelder asks Malachi Stack (Chris Gurnas) about his credentials.

7. Ermengard (Nancy Clift) confirms her identity to Miss VanHuysen's cook (Pam Matheis).

5. Members of the Tucker party eavesdrop on Dolly and Horace on the other side.

Student Co-directors make "Match"

Hoover's student co-directed play, "The Matchmaker", was the largest student directed play ever to be produced at Hoover. The co-directors were Julia Sorrell and Dan Jensen.

The famous Broadway musical "Hello, Dolly" was based on "The Matchmaker". Who could forget the familiar theme as Dolly Levi, played superbly by Heather Wacha in her first lead role, tries to find a wife for Horace Vandergelder, played by veteran drama student Ken Smalley.

During the intermission, the audience was entertained by the music of the period, sung by Mary Sanderson and Debbie Linn and accompanied by Amy Toomsen on the violin.

8. Mel Brown made the part of Mrs. Irene Molloy her first lead role in "The Matchmaker".

ACTIVITIES

Band marches to first place

The 1979-80 Husky marching band, led by Drum Major Doug Langbehn, highlights the season's close by capturing 1st place in the annual Pella Tulip-Time parade. The band has many outstanding senior members, including Sue Martin who is chosen to be in the MacDonald's marching band on New Year's Day in New York. Several students are named to All-State honors, as excellence is maintained under the direction of Ron Battani. With the addition of several freshmen to the band, it is once again among the top bands in the state of Iowa, as well as the midwest states. The dedication of the band can be heard ringing through the cool morning air during early morning practices, and also during the 4th hour practices, roaming the streets that surround Hoover.

2. The Band rehearses on a side-street for an up coming parade.

3. All-State Band members: Front; Sue Martin, Lisa Loomis, Kristin Rabenberg, Rachele Braverman, Mary Boatwright, Tracey Stoen. Back; Clayton Corey, Brian Hutzell, Sean Bell, Marty McDonald, Doug Langbehn, Tom Mease, John Heggen, Dave Pagliai.

This year's Hoover orchestra did an outstanding job of representing the school. The orchestra captured first place honors in a state competition at North High School, and three members of the group became members of the All-State Orchestra. These All-Staters are Lori Bandcroft, Amy Toomson, and Jacque Utterback, who each play the violin. As freshmen joined the orchestra for the first time this year, the future looks bright for the Huskies as many members of this young group will return.

Orchestra captures city, state honors

1. The Orchestra; (l-r) Row one, Mary Heggen, Jane Joynt, Kay Proshe, Ann McLaughlin, Jacque Utterback, Mr. Brauning, Row two, Michelle Thorp, Amy Toomson, Debbie Hollister, Carolyn Hanon, Miss. Works, Row three, Tim Kratz, John Muller, Lori Bandcroft, Linda Diment, Julie Taylor, Brian Michealson, Tony Sunga.

2. Amy Toomson, Jacque Utterback, and Lori Bandcroft were awarded All-State honors.

Upset at State; Jazz II created

The 1979-80 Hoover Jazz Band, under the direction of Mr. Ron Battani, finishes the year on an unfortunate note as the band finishes in a disappointing second place in the Iowa Jazz Championships. Making up the four sections of the Jazz Band are, on saxophone, Leslie Griep, Linda Weissinger, Heidi Grosch, Russ Hellmer, Brian Olson, Alec Binnie; on trombone, Brian Hutzell, Clayton Corey, Clint Scheidler, Dana Breese, Doug Gibson; on trumpet, Jeff Van Sloun, Bill Boatwright, Craig Davidson, Bryan Moon, Bill Mehle, Randy Trail, Mitzi Hemstreet; on rhythm, Doug Langbehn, Scott Borg, Marty McDonald, Dave Pagliai, Jeff French, Scott Belknap, and Renee Reynolds. Highlights of the year include the Ninth Annual Hoover Jazz Festival, in which Phil Wilson is the guest artist, and a first place finish in the Pella Tulip Time Parade.

The Jazz Band was not short of talent this year as an entire Jazz Band II was formed and were runner-up in the Hoover Jazz Festival.

1. At the annual Spring Jazz Concert at Hoover Russ Helmer, Heidi Grosch, Linda Weissinger, Leslie Griep, and Alec Binnie perform behind the legendary Ted Nugent, as Mr. Battani directs.

2. Senior Alec Binnie takes a well deserved bow after his solo performance as senior Doug Langbehn tingles on the ivories.

3. Outstanding Jazz artist Doug Langbehn demonstrates why he is among the best jazz pianists in the state.

4. After winning the state's "Outstanding Soloist Award" for the third year in a row, Senior Russ Helmer was named the first annual recipient of the Louie Armstrong Jazz Musician Award, which was presented by Mr. Ron Battani.

5. Hoover's Jazz II acknowledges the crowds magnanimous applause after the conclusion of the Spring Jazz Concert.

6. Scott Belknap appears a blur during his drum roll.

This year's Swing Choir consisted of twenty-eight members, including Brad Bergman on piano and Linda Diment on bass. Swing choir is a full credit class that meets outside of school time. Along with performing for various organizations throughout the school year, the Swing Choir also participated in a contest at Southwestern Community College in Creston, Iowa and presented a final concert in May. For these two shows, the Swing Choir was accompanied by a six-man jazz combo. The choir was directed by Miss Donna Emmons and the student director for 1979-80 was Marlene Priebnow.

Students "swing" into action

1. Renee Perdue, John Lyman, Julie Peterson, Mark Moser, and Cathy Dyer "swing" to the beat at one of their many concerts.

2. At the annual Swing Choir Show at Hoover, singers fall into formation easily after many hours of rehearsal.

3. Dan Hedlund shows his expert ability as a soloist.

German Club formed: Debate young

The new German Club sponsored by Trudy Jacobson, was in popular demand by twenty students.

In the near future, they hope to take a trip to Germany and Austria, visit German restaurants, and have German foods at the students' homes. As an activity they (the club members) are planning to make up a softball team and make up German cheers.

Husky staff "building a rainbow"

The theme of the 1980 "Husky" is "Building a Rainbow", as every spectrum of Hoover life is represented throughout the 196 pages of the "Husky". Under the leadership of Editor-In-Chief Barb Diment, many innovations are made to the Husky's traditional format. These changes include a four color cover, senior activities at the end of the book, and the colorful, rainbow stripes throughout the opening section. The Husky staff wishes to thank you for making this year's book the best ever.

“Challenger” adopts new image

Keeping up with tradition, The Challenger adopts a new image. Among the changes are a new nameplate and four instead of five columns. The Artist of the Month feature is expanded to include all of the arts-music, industrial, theatre, and applied.

Under the leadership of Diane Avgerinos(Editor-In-Chief), a rookie staff manages to put together 10 issues. With an emphasis on people, The Challenger offers its readers numerous features. Among them were profiles of students involved in unusual outside activities and interviews with students from other countries.

Beneath a disguising facade of participation, the staff suffers from lack of dedication, as endless deadlines with copy and paste up are not met-despite the unrelenting dedication from the Editor-In-Chief. However, as a small bonus, the last issue is done in green to sign the close of the school year.

1. Junior Dawn Ummel works vigorously with Mr. Durand to meet a deadline.

2. Feature editor, Doug Springer, ponders as he attempts to solve a lay-out problem.

2. Second Semester Officers;(l-r), Secretary Joleen Olds, President Eric Carlson, Vice President Ricky Bruce, Treasurer Dan Hedlund.

3. Chuck Oxley was unsuccessful in his attempt to become Student Council Pres., however his speech narrowed the race.

During the 1979-80 Student Council, numerous controvertial topics were discussed including a smoking room for eighteen-year-olds, declining interest in Student Council affairs, and the new attendance policy. This year's Student Council was responsible for the after game open houses at Hoover, and many other activities for the benefit of Hoover students.

4. Candidates for the fall 1980-81 Student Council are:(l-r) Lisa Lisbona, Sara Hyde, Tina Creach, Dan Hedlund, Nancy Clift, Linda Diment, Laura Albright, Heidi Grosch.

5. Lt. Governor Terry Branstad spoke about student involvement at the Student Council assembly.

6. Paul Bruce listens intently to a fellow candidate speak at the elections assembly.

Cheerleaders boost spirits

The Varsity Cheerleaders keep the spirit flowing in the minds of team members by assigning each of the girls to her own player or players. The athletes receive cookies, cakes, or just mounds of candy before a game or event each Friday morning in homeroom. The cheerleaders keep busy by making the traditional posters for the student center, but show real dedication and support by having each one made to perfection weeks in advance. Under the supervision of Ms. Penny Weishaar, the cheerleaders keep the huge crowds excited and enthusiastic by using crowd response cheers that are easily understood. The cheerleaders are competantly assisted by fall mascots Nancy Cronert and Paul Bruce, and winter mascots Sara Hyde and Michele Mead. The Swimming and Wrestling squads keep busy also by making signs and posters for the halls and student centers, and are very supportive. One good fund raising activity for the cheerleaders is the selling of "Hoover Husky" mittens, hats, and scarves. Others include the everpopular bake sales, and something that the football squad starts, waitressing at the Drake Olmstead Center becomes a new evening activity for a few of the girls and their friends. All of the money from these excursions are donated to the cheerleaders' treasury.

Our 1979-80 cheerleading squads should be commended for the excellence that is shown in their ability to get the crowds really involved and fired-up for all of the sporting events here at Hoover. Cheerleading is more than just fun and games - as most people view it. It is hard and time consuming, and the job takes a lot of dedication to make everything go smoothly.

Sophomore squads cheer to victory

This year's sophomore cheerleaders do a fine job cheering their teams to victory. The girls show their enthusiasm at each game by using new and old cheers in a modern style.

Both squads, football and basketball, fire-up the teams by decorating lockers and hanging posters in the student center.

The sophs. have a big responsibility this year as both teams draw large crowds due to their outstanding winning records. However, the sophomore cheerleaders meet the challenge and show their Husky pride.

Freshmen cheers start tradition

With the addition of freshmen to Hoover for the first time, the Huskies gained two new cheerleading squads, football and basketball. These first cheerleaders help to create a winning tradition in freshmen sports as their spirit and enthusiasm overflows. The squads have to contend with cheering at junior high schools this year, however the girls' dedication and pride, which have become a trademark among Husky cheerleaders, never falters.

Along with making signs and posters to fire-up the teams, the freshmen sell jerseys during the football season as a fund raising project. The freshmen cheerleaders are a welcome addition to the drive for spirit here at Hoover.

Timers "Watch" Boys Swim Team

This years timers, "watched" the boys swim team to a good finish. The timers help things run smoothly at the home meets, but their spirit is not limited to these. Some of the girls go to the away meets just to cheer the boys on to another win. Along with helping at the meets, the timers keep the guys fired up by making Fire - Up posters, bring them goodies, and T-Ping houses before the meets. The new timers were chosen this spring, by the members of the boys swim team. This years President, Kris Woods, did a great job of keeping the timers coordinated. Next year looks to be just as promising with Sheri Watson taking over as President.

Hoover students tour country

A Trailways bus carried thirty-four people, including sponsor Richard Moore, to a ski trip in Colorado over Spring break. Sixteen people were beginners and some of them made it to as much as blue slopes. Not only did they ski, but they swam in a heated pool and enjoyed a whirlpool and sauna.

While some students were skiing down the slopes of Winter Park, thirty-three persons left, with sponsor Mr. Hollingsworth, to Mexico City, Taxco, and Acapulco, Mexico. Other Hoover students toured New York City, and Washington D.C. on the annual United Nations trip. The U.N. trip toured the White House, the Empire State Building, and, of course, the Statue of Liberty.

During 1979, Mr. Moore also sponsored a Chicago trip for biology students. on this trip, students visited the Chicago Zoo and the Museum of Science.

Twirlers spice up half time

This year's twirling squad brightened up many a half time football festivity. Senior members Lisa Loomis, Mary Boatwright, Sue Martin, and DeeAnn McKinney provide the leadership for the younger members of the squad. The Twirlers perform with the Hoover Band, under the direction of Mr. Ron Battani, and senior baton twirler Cheryl Marshall. Cheryl performs throughout the football season as the only Hoover baton twirler and does many difficult routines. One of Hoover's finest half time shows includes the flag twirlers, and Cheryl with her baton a flame. Next year's squad will be young and inexperienced as lead twirlers graduate.

Hooverites show school spirit

This year Hooverites spiced up their act with the new uniforms which they purchased thru fundraisers. This year's captain, Amy West, spent many long hours with sponsor, Tom Ludwig to ready the girls for their performances. Officers for this year are Captain; Amy West, Sr. Rep; Kathy Lamb, Soph. Rep; Karen Cooper, and Freshman Rep; Linda Havnen. The Hooverites did not limit their performances to the home basketball games, they traveled to Urbandale to perform at the Christmas tournament there. They also helped with the special olympics held here at Hoover. The Hooverites will continue to be active in 1980 - 81 with co - captains, Elizabeth Arndt and Debbie Reseland taking over.

Students discover business excitement

This year's DECA and OEA members did an outstanding job of representing Hoover at the many contests they participated in this year. DECA, formally known as the Distributive Education Program, consisted of 36 members this year - an increase of 15 members from last year. DECA traveled throughout the state to contests such as the Leadership Retreat in Madrid, the Delegate Assembly at UNI, the Central Regional Leadership Conference in Minneapolis, Minn., and the Employer-Employee Banquet at the Olmsted Center.

OEA members also did some traveling this year as nineteen students attended a Regional Conference on Feb. 26. At this contest, Trudy Cumings, Diane Anderson, Joan Norris, Allison Edwards, Royca Brown, Marcia Argenta, Marcia Cooper, Renee Stout, Lisa Moore, Kelli Cox, and Jacque Asman placed in contests from Job Interview to Information Communications to Typing. The excitement didn't end at the Regional contest as the winners proceeded to the state contest.

The DECA and OEA Clubs, once again, prove that gaining valuable experience in the business world can also be fun and exciting.

Homecoming victory highlights season

The varsity football team had an exceptional season this year coming off Hoover's second Homecoming victory in its history, the Huskies led the Metro in both offense and defense. Their consistent performances kept them ranked or a top contender for the entire '79 season. They finished the year at 6-3, tying Hoover's best season mark achieved by the team of 1973.

Four Huskies recieved All-State honors, two on teams and two recieving honorable mention. They were Luke Ginn, Eric Stroud, Kelly Blackford, and Dave Applegate. In addition to this five joined the coveted All-Metro team, two were named unanimously, and several others made second team or recieved Honorable Mention. The Huskies making All-Metro were Blackford, and Stroud unanimously, Luke Ginn, Dave Applegate, and Dave Stecher. The second team welcomed Dean Havran, Randy Cozad, Bill Hiskey, and Bruce Sikkink.

The team had several individual standouts who brought about the fall of five Husky records, and the tying of a sixth. The record books welcomed seniors Steve Doten rushing for more than twice the yards of any other quarterback, Blackford scoring 72 points, Stecher booting a 61 yard punt, also juniors Derek Lohner for converting on 21 P.A.T., Cozad with 6 sacks, and Hiskey tying the record for interceptions.

The team was quoted as being well balanced, by Head Coach Howard Justice, and well balanced they proved to be. The offense outscored their Metro apponents 121 to 64. Probably the best example of Hoover's defense was holding previously undefeated Valley scoreless, with a 7-0 victory. The win boosted Hoover in the ratings and gave the Huskies a good chance for a ticket to the playoffs. Valley was the Metros leading scorer.

Next year should also be an outstanding one with a sophomore class coming off a 7-1 record and a second place in the Metro.

Powerful Sophomores go 7-1

This year's Hoover sophomore football team finishes with an outstanding 7-1 record, with three shutouts. The sophs completed one of the best years at Hoover. They also placed second in Metro to Dowling who had a 7-0 season. The team was lead by Karl Johnson with 14 touchdowns and a rushing average of 7.1 yards per carry. Pass receiving was also led by Johnson with 13 catches for 236 yards and one T.D. by Steve Stroud who took the rushing title with an average of 6.1 yards per carry. Quarterback Paul Boehm had 70 attempts in passing and completed 39, for a total of 694 yards. Defense was lead by Karl Johnson with 85 defensive points. Following Karl is Jeff Reed with 47 points.

3. The sophomore football team: row one, Ty Perry, Rick James, O.J. Frosh grididders set records, go 7-1

Hoover's first official edition of a freshmen football squad not only sets all new school records for future frosh to shoot for, but they compile a handsome 7-1 season record. The frosh sport a high-scoring offense that puts 206 points on the board to only 78 for their opponents. Steve Denkinger runs the offense and accounts for 86 points while Greg Polson garners 54 and Jebb Dykstra 40. Polson leads the ground attack with 92 yards/game and Jeff Underwood rushes for 72 yards per game. The defense is buoyed by Scott McKenzie with 47 tackles and 13 assists and Shawn Edwards with 40 tackles and the same number of assists. Coach Pat Lawler is looking forward to the freshmen contributing much to the program.

"Young and experienced," those are the words that Coach Jankovitz used to describe his girls distance running team. The girls ran to an 8-0 dual record which makes them now 55-0-2 and still undefeated in the Metro. Along with this the girls ran up a 4-2-5-5-5 record.

Tracy Parks the team's "Most Outstanding Runner" and Co-

Captain led the team as she took first place in every meet. At State Parks, for the second year in a row took 3rd place against the toughest runners in the state. Parks had a lot of help with Brenda Belcher, the other captain, Jacque Utterback, the team's "Most Improved Runner", outstanding sophomore Kim Terraberry, Deb

Kimball, and Julie Jennings.

Hoover girls distance running team will be hard to beat next year with new talent, and with the loss of three seniors.

1. While demonstrating the fine art of "pack running" juniors Debbie Kimball, Jacque Utterback, and sophomore Kim Terriberly run tough against the opposition.

2. Tracy Parks psychs up for another win while Coach Jankovitz tries to look serious for once.

3. Running in the form that makes her one of the top distance runners in the state, Tracy Parks moves ahead of State Champion Tina Brown.

Inexperience plagues young harriers

This year is one of rebuilding for the Harriers. They finished the season with a dual meet record of 3-3, while running up a 9-5-5-7-8 invitational record. The Harriers are inexperienced in that junior runner Cam Moran is the team's only runner with any prior varsity experience. The team is also plagued with injuries to three of the top five runners. Moran ran in the number one spot for the Harriers while being named "Most Outstanding Runner." Also running tough behind Moran was Alex Valderama "Most Improved", Mike Wright, Pat Sherlock "Team Captain", Jim Parker, and Dave Williams.

Things will be looking up for the Harriers with a lot of very good sophomore and freshman runners coming back to run on next year's team.

1. Determined to keep his opponent behind him, senior Jim Parker pushes his opponent to the breaking point.

2. Bryce Bergman and Bill Gay lead the other Hoover runners in order to capture a good position.

"We are family" becomes the theme song for the Marlins this year. The team winds up the season with a third place finish in the Metro, a second place finish at Districts, and a twelvth place finish in the state meet. The dual meet record is 5 and 3, while at state, Vicki Nauman places fourth in the 100 backstroke, Melanie Brown places eighth in the 100 fly, and the medly relay team finishes sixth. This year's co-captains are Dana Wilson and Kris Woods. The most improved swimmers are Julie Taylor and Diane Hartsuck, while the high point scorer is Vickie Nauman. The outlook for next year's team is good with 19 returning letter winners.

2. Christy Ulin concentrates intently as she digs the ball, setting up a winning spike.

Volleyballers capture Metro crown

Volleyballers serve up a 14-1 varsity record this year along with three first place finishes at Conference, Sectionals, and Districts. The Husky's only dual meet loss is to Valley half way through the season. They then come back to beat Valley in the Conference game.

The team this year is lead by seven outstanding seniors: Cindy Isenhart, Sandy Supstiks, and Diane Erickson earn all metro honors. Lori Fisher and Mary Detwiller garner honorable mentions. Michelle Mead is named all city and All Conference, with Christy Ulin boosting the team to a victory in many of the games.

The 1980 season outlook is good with four returning letterman: Brenda Anderson, Linda Fisher, Paula Smith and Kim Hemphill, along with sophomore Tracey Sayles.

3. Coach Steve Lundholm flashes a look of concern to his players.

4. All Metro senior Diane Erickson "dinks" around during the Valley game.

2. Outstanding diver Tom Neusinger demonstrates why he is the top diver in the Metro.

"This years team had it's ups and downs, but we definately finished on an up." Coach Dave Linder reflects on the 1980 Boys Swimming season. The team this year is afflicted with illness, with varsity swimmer Dave Combs out for two weeks with mono and various other swimmers out for short terms with colds and flu. At one point there were only 12 varsity swimmers out of approximately 25 swimmers at an afternoon practice. The other 13 were all "under the weather".

The up that his years team finishes on has alot to do with the fact that the Hellhounds upset Roosevelt at the State meet after being defeated by the Riders in dual meet competition earlier this year. Hoover finsihes in a tie for 9th with 51 points, while the Roosevelt Rough Riders finish a disappointing 11th with 19½ points.

3. Co-captain Eric Grant is congratulated by teammates after splashing to victory.

4. Dan Hedlund displays the lap card which proved unlucky for the Riders.

5. Keith Trumbo expresses his relief after finishing a grueling race.

6. Stuart Sweeney gets a flying start on his relay leg as teammates look on.

This year is also a year for breaking records. The Medly Relay team of Craig Davidson, Eric Grant Tim Brown, and Dave Combs take the school record with a time of 1:43.23. Tim Brown captures the 100 yd. butterfly record time of :53.75. Tom Neusinger has an outstanding year setting pool and meet records all season long. Tom dove a 506.05 to earn the team record fo 11 dives.

Tim Brown earns the honors of outstanding swimmer, Team High Point Scorer, and the Bob Lenc Award. Most Improved is Keith Trumbo. The teams tri-captains are Eric Grant, Tim Brown, and Keith Trumbo.

Gymnasts earn piece of metro crown

This year the gymnastics team has a new coach, Carol McVoy. She does well for her first season at Hoover and ends the season with an impressive 5-3 overall record. Highlights of the winning season include upsets over East and Dowling, however as the season concludes the Huskies are plagued with untimely injuries. The young team gains valuable experience, as next year's team will be losing only three seniors in Dana Wilson, Marla Touch, and Roberta Wheeler. The Huskies earn a piece of the trisected Metro crown with rivals East and Roosevelt, and they place seventh in their district. At the District meet, Dana Wilson places seventh on the uneven parallel bars, and Mel Brown ties for seventh place in the vaulting competition and earns sixth place in tumbling. Coach McVoy is looking forward to next year's team with optimism as many letter winners return.

Hoover grapplers finish the season with a 5-6 dual meet record and a fourth place finish in the Metro Conference. John Saunders leads the team in letter points with a record 2110 as a sophomore with co-captain senior Eric Stroud. Other wrestlers in the 1000 point club include co-captain Brad Mowery, senior Scott Jay, Most Improved Senior, Mark Parkhurst; senior Don Quijano, sophomore Tom Dryg, Most Improved Freshman, Craig Lynn; sophomore Dan McIntosh, and sophomore Steve Stroud. Highlights of the year include a state meet bid by Saunders in the 98-pound division and a near miss by Stroud. Both Stroud and Saunders are named Most Valuable Wrestlers.

The Hoover girl's basketball team finishes an impressive third in Metro. The loss of sophomore Tracy Sales shows, but can't stop the girl cagers. They finish the season with an overall record of 14-7 and an 11-3 Metro record and give both East and Lincoln a tough time in the final stretch.

Senior Cindy Isenhardt finishes the season with a field goal percentage of 57.6 and a high school record of 131 assists.

Mary Detwiller's 82 blocked shots and Tracie Thomas's 117 steals, both school records, are the key to one of the most outstanding defenses in the state.

Also strong contributing factors on the team are senior Beth Blankenberg, Kim Holloman, and Lori Fisher.

Returning to lead the girls into another race for top titles will be junior Renee Reynolds, Kerri Applegate, and Jeannie Holloman.

Brafford leads way for Sophs

In his second year as girls' sophomore basketball coach, Jim Jordan guided the team to a 6-8 Metro record. Among those six victories was a hard fought squeaker over the Lincoln Railsplitters. The responsibility of scoring points fell upon forwards Paula Witke, Kris Conkel, Julie Potts, Laura Greenwalt, and Rozzie Brafford. Brafford was the leading point getter for the squad. In the guard court Teresa Phillips, Sheri Weathers, Jane Wellman, Potts, and Greenwalt were some of the girls who held down the opposing forwards.

Frosh girls 14-1

The Hoover girl's freshman basketball team finishes the season with a good overall record. Team A grabs a 14-1 record and team B finishes with a 3-7 record. The girls also win the Polk County Tournament playing the best teams from Central Iowa. As a team they play in the Iowa A.A.U. Tournament and net third in the fifteen and under category. Jeanette Cleven was the team's high scorer setting new records. Being Hoovers' first freshman team they set all new records for the new freshman to follow or break. Coach Doughan is looking forward to next year's season as his team help fill in new positions.

Huskies top Metro; rated in state

The Hoover Huskies, who started the season rated tops in state, ended a 17-3 season rated no. 4 in the state and claiming their 4th Metro Conference Championship in 13 years.

Out of the 20 games Tom Aceto is the leading scorer in 15 of these games. He ends the season with a 24.2 average, hitting 55 percent of his field goals and 84 percent from the free throw line. While at Hoover, Aceto becomes 3rd leading career scorer behind Joe Dykstra, and Jack Huff who both played three years; Tom only played two years. He also became 6th in career rebounds. He also was 3rd and 4th leading season scorer. Joe Dykstra holds 1st and 2nd. Tom holds the career free throw percentage with 174-211 for an 82.46 percent. Aceto was voted Most Valuable Player this year and was 2nd team All-State and 1st team All-Metro.

Tim Anderson was leading rebounder in 7 out of the 15 games he played in. He was also leading scorer in two of the games. He shot 48% from the field and 71% from the line. Tim finished his Huskie career being 10th in career rebounding. He probably would have been higher if he hadn't been injured in the latter part of the season.

Ron Bradley, Coach Bert Adams calls him, Big Board man. He had 184 rebounds this season. He was co-leading scorer in one game and leading in 4 games. Bradley was 1st team All-Metro and Honorable Mention for state.

Chris Sonner, The most underrated player for Hoover, was leading scorer for one game, and shot 48 percent and 81 percent from the gift line. He had 54 assists, led the team with 34 steals, and only made 12 errors the whole season. He was called Big "D" by Coach Adams and along with Greg Witke, was co-captain and holds the game assists record with 25 against Tech.

Greg Witke shot 50 percent from the field and had 103 assists. He was also underrated by many. He like Tom Anderson, was hampered part of the season with an ankle injury.

1. Tim Anderson skies high for the tip in the season opener.

2. Greg Witke shows his ballhandling skills as he bring the ball down.

3. Chris Sonner looks for an opening in the tough East defense.

Freshmen capture Metro; go 16-1

Hoover's first Freshman Basketball season turns out to be a successful one as both the A and B teams lead the Metro Conference. Led by the shooting finesse of top scorers Jebb Dykstra and David Tigue, the A team chalks up a 16-1 record to finish first in the Metro. Highlights of the season also include capturing the County Tournament at Urbandale. Coach Denny Turnure's B team is not without fine talent either as it compiles a perfect 13-0 record. Mike Aceto and Brad Johnson lead the scoring for the B team. In coming years, this freshman team will power strong sophomore and varsity squads.

Parks, Crose go 1-2 in state 1500; team 4th!

This season has been a good one for the Hoover girls' track team. Led by seniors Brenda Belcher, Tracie Thomas, Michelle Bales and Dawn Ulrich, the team captures 8 school records and 10 meet records.

After a 3rd place finish at Districts, where 9 team members qualify for state, the girls return to finish 3rd in a rough Metro Conference. Valley edges Hoover out of a 2nd place finish by 1 point.

With 3 relay teams and 2 open events, Hoover places 4th out of 40 teams at state. From the 9 people qualifying at state 8 will return. The loss of senior Tracie Thomas the only senior at state, will be severely noticed.

Junior Marcy Crose, the only team member to go to the Drake Relays, was one of the top point getters at state. Marcy, along with Melissa Weigle, Jacque Utterback and Tracie Thomas finish 4th in the Distance Medley Relay. Crose then comes back and places 4th in the Distance Medley Relay. Crose then comes back and places 4th in the 800m. run and 2nd in the 1500m. run.

Junior Tracy Parks gives the Hoover fans an exciting race as she breaks the tape in the 1500m. run and becomes this years Grand Champion in this event.

Other top placers at state are the 4x200 relay and the Sprint medley relay. The 4x200 relay, consisting of Laura McNichols, Dena Clark, Vickie Nauman and Tracie Thomas, places 4th. The Spring Medley also places 4th with team members Dena Clark, Julie Bleadorn, Laura McNichols and Tracie Thomas.

1. Junior Tracy Parks shows the form that earned her a first place finish in the state 1500.

2. Freshmen Jodi Volker shows the promising form that made her a top hurdler.

3. Senior Tracie Thomas sets for the handoff from Jacque Utterback in the distance medley.

1. Junior Sheri Watson strains to catch her tough Valley opponent at Metro.

2. Marcy Crose breaks the tape at Metro much as she did all season long.

Wright, freshmen lead young tracksters

1.Senior Mike Wright, in an easy battle, leads the Hoover boys to an 1, 2, 3, finish in the 100m. dash.

2.Senior Tim Brown appears to be flying to teammate Junior Cam Moran for another perfect hand-off.

3.Senior Bill Flattery shows the intense pressure and tough competition involved in running the 100m. hurdles.

4.Good hand-offs between juniors Lane Riggle and Derek Lohner is the reason they are members of a state qualifying relay.

The Hoover boy's track team, led by seniors Tim Brown, Bill Flattery, Dean Havran, Pat Sherlock Ricky Smith, and Mike Wright, placed well in a tough Metro conference during the 1980 season.

Throughout much of the season sprinters prove to be the top point getters for the team. Mike Wright was ranked as one of the states best in the 100 meter dash throughout the season and qualifies for state in the event. He also anchors the 4x100 team which places third at Drake Rekeys and qualified for state. Other valuable members of the relay team are juniors Bill Hiskey, Derek Lohner, and Lane Riggle.

The new policy of freshman running on the Hoover team proves to be a welcome addition as their 4x100m. relay places first in the freshman race at Drake and shows promise in the future.

The future looks bright for the team and hopes are high for an even better showing, by the team, in the years to come.

Huskies swing to second in Metro

The 1979-80 girls' tennis team finishes strong by placing second in the Metro, with a 7-1 conference record. The only loss comes at the hands of a very tough Roosevelt team. This year's team is led by freshman Joni Eaton, who qualified for state, seniors Diane Erickson, and Leslie Greip, and juniors Julie Jennings and Lori Koerner. Highlights of the season include a win over Vally and a first place finish in the Pella Invitational, in which Julie Jennings and Joni Eaton combined winning efforts to take first place in the number one doubles and Diane Erickson won the consolation in number one singles.

2. Junior Mary Margaret Burrows pirouettes into a picturesque volley in her singles match.

3. Julie Jennings meets the ball with a friendly wave during a match at Hoover.

1. Freshman Joni Eaton demonstrates the form that made her Hoover's best.

2. Senior Leslie Griep appears to be all choked up over another smashing return.

3. Senior Diane Erickson appears confident as she swings for the ball.

Huskie netters 'outstanding; go 15-2

The future of Hoover tennis looks bright as a young boys' squad completes a 15-2 season and finished second in the tough Metro Conference. Sophomore Bob Peterson and junior Scott Richardson qualify for state in doubles and win their first round match. They lose in the quarterfinals in a good three-set match. In the district tournament, senior Reggie Morrow finishes third in singles and sophomores Scott Melton and Paul Zeller grab a fourth place in doubles. A high point of the season hits with the Huskies taking top honors in the Hoover Invitational Tournament and beating powerful Valley 9-0. The junior varsity sports a spotless 12-0 season mark and Coach Mike Schaumburg is looking for another "outstanding" season next year.

Young golfers swing tough

This years' girls and boys golf teams did an outstanding job of representing Hoover. The girls finished fourth in the Metro, while the boys placed second. The girls team was lead by Carolyn Frey who was named "Golfer of the Year". Andy Ward and Brian Spring were among the top golfers on the boys squad as Andy was named "Golfer of the Year" and Brian was the sole Hoover competitor at state. Both teams should be strong next year as many stand-outs return.

2. Debbie Linn displays her new hair style as she rounds first base with another hit.

Prepared to avenge 1979's 11-19 record, the girls' softball team opened their 1980 season with a victory over Norwalk, the fourth-rated team on pre-season polls. This early momentum carried on through the year as the Huskies knocked off central Iowa powerhouse Saydel and tough Metro competitors such as Roosevelt and Valley. Although five players graduate from this year's squad, including captains Cindy Isenhart and Christy Ulin, a strong crew of underclassmen should carry Hoover to a successful 1981 season.

Our special thanks to Mr. Bernie Ulin for these photographs.

3. Senior Christy Ulin gives it her all as she strokes the ball for a Husky hit.

4. Diane Erickson and Jane Wellman (right) dance under a fly ball as Cindy Isenhart and outfielder Ann McLaughlin anxiously look on.

Watson's thirteenth unlucky for rivals

The 1980 baseball team, with Coach Bob Watson in his thirteenth season at Hoover, returned eleven letter winners. Among them was the majority of the 1979 pitching staff, which built a 23-7 season that year. Rick Grandquist, who owned a 12-0 record and a 0.50 ERA in 1979, headed the list of returning hurlers. Luke Ginn returned as the team's catcher and brought a .305 batting average- the best in 1979- to the plate for the Huskies this year. Eleven seniors graduate from the 1980 team, as the Huskies tie with Dowling for the Metro title - later defeating the Maroons in District action.

1. Senior Jim Cleven races to first base as Coach Denny Turnure awaits the umpire's call.

2. Dave Stecher's foul tip at the plate kicks up the dirt in a game between the Huskies and the North Polar Bears.

3. The call is 3 & 2 as Scott Noah starts his kick en route to a Hoover victory.

4. Luke Ginn darts back to first, trying to avert a pick-off attempt.

Administration begins decade with change

As freshmen entered Hoover for the first time this year, new problems were created for the administration to deal with. Among these was the lack of space for newly created freshman homerooms, however the problem was solved when the library and small gym were converted into class rooms. Other changes at Hoover this year include the new and highly controversial attendance policy, the thermostats set in accordance to President Carter's energy policies, and a new Vice Principal, Mrs. Mary Ann McManus.

Peterson joins staff: C.P.R. taught

Hoover's P.E. classes are not simply for exercise, but rather for fun as many classes are offered in sports such as: ice skating, bowling, yoga, and skiing. Cardiopulmonary resuscitation or CPR is required for all students in the senior class. Seniors are taught how to save both choking and drowning victims. With the addition of ninth graders this year, Mr. Peterson joins the teaching staff.

The Hoover art classes this year were given the fortunate opportunity of visiting the Walker Art Center in Minneapolis, Minn. for the Pablo Picasso exhibit which toured the country for only a short time. Mrs. Mathers and Mr. Wilkerson chaperoned the trip and headed up the two vans full of students. The field trip was enjoyed by all.

Other highlights of the year include the annual student art sale, field trips, and individual projects.

Calculator Mania: a sign of the times

The Hoover mathematics department enters the nineteen-eighties with three new staff members, due to the added freshmen this year. These teachers are Mr. Roe, Mrs. Thune, and Mr. Turnure. This year's math students have the opportunity to gain experience with computers in the math center, some planing to enter the ever-growing computer field later on. With the support of computer-crazed teachers, such as Mr. Bushyager and Mr. Zimmerman, students join in the mania with hand-held calculators, such as the popular TI-30 or TI-59, which have become a sign of the times.

Dr. Mann honored: Five join staff

As freshmen enter high school, Hoover's English department gains the teaching skills of Mrs. Kathie Bates, Mrs. Ophelia Fenton, and Mrs. Virginia Mortenson. Other teachers new to Hoover this year are Mr. Jerry Wadden and Mr. Steven Davis. Students participate in numerous activities this year including the acting out of "Hamlet" by Miss Weishaar's senior English students and the opportunity to watch "The Taming of the Shrew", which is put on by the drama department. Dr. Jona Mann is awarded for her outstanding work in the field of learning disabilities as a regular classroom teacher and makes all of Hoover proud.

2. AC/AI students react differently to a poem as they analyze it deep between the lines.

3. Mr. Wadden attempts to relate to his students by rising to their level of understanding.

Nemic, Parks, Stroope join staff

This year's Social Studies Department gained the teaching skills of Mr. Nemec, Mr. Parks, and Mr. Stroope. These teachers became a part of Hoover with the addition of freshmen to high school. As the curriculum of the social studies classes broadened, students participated in a wide variety of activities including Eighteenth Century Club in Mr. Park's world history classes, and individual projects in Mr. Drummond's sociology classes. Guest speakers highlighted Mrs. Axtelle's government classes as campaigners such as George Bush's son Marvin attempted to win the eighteen-year-old vote, and in Mr. Adams U.S. History classes a wide array of films were shown including the gruesome favorite, "A Man Called Horse".

1. Students display a variety of reactions to an assignment in history.

Hoover mourns death of Mr. Paul Brust

On October 20, 1979, Hoover suffered the loss of Mr. Paul Brust, who died of a heart attack. Mr. Brust had been at Hoover since its doors first opened and will be remembered by students and teachers alike for his deep devotion to teaching as well as for his sincere concern for the well-being of his students in Deca. In the words of Mr. Miller, "He was just a real wonderful fellow, easy to work with, very friendly and cooperative. We'll all miss him".

Replacing Mr. Brust are Mr. Pat Lawler and Mrs. Evelyn Mack. The business classes have been busy this year with competitions and fund raising projects, among which is the selling of M'M's, Reeces, and Crackerjacks, which is enjoyed by all.

As freshmen entered Hoover this year, more students than ever before became active in music. Freshmen participated in every aspect of the music department from Prep Choir to Band to Orchestra. Along with the annual school assemblies, members of the music groups also participated in the musical "Babes in Toyland", "The Taming of the Shrew", "The Matchmaker". The Hoover music department rose to state wide recognition as many students earned All-State honors, and many organizations within the community witnessed the talent as the Swing Choir toured throughout the year.

Other highlights of the year are the exhibition of moon rocks, a guest speaker on nuclear energy, Mr. Moore's animal kingdom, including frogs, snakes, and a tarantula, and the climax of physics experiments in which the mass of an electron is approximated.

4. Mr. Moore unleashes his pet tarantula as an added incentive on test day.

5. Junior Tracy Parks listens carefully to Mr. Murphy as he answers her question.

This year's foreign language students participated in many trips. While German and French students take field trips to watch plays, Spanish students, chaperoned by Mr. Hollingsworth, visit Acapulco, Mexico over spring break. Other highlights of the year include the creation of the German Club by Mrs. Jacobson, who is new to Hoover. Hoover welcomes first freshmen

Des Moines witnesses a change this year as, for the first time, freshmen enter high school. 323 freshmen combine with the sophomores to make-up almost half of the 1368 students new at Hoover. Like other Metro schools, Hoover feels the strain of the added students as the lack of space becomes apparent in the halls.

The freshman class is a class of uniqueness. While taking the usual bottom of the ladder jokes in stride, the class of '83 becomes an active part of Hoover- participating in every extra-curricular activity. Most freshmen look to Hoover for the opportunity of new freedom they never had in junior high, and when asked how they liked Hoover, one freshman said, "You can do so many things in high school, plus we have S.A.T.s and open finals."

When freshmen were asked what mattered most to them in school, their responses were typical of every class. One girl commented, "Friends matter to me. Without them, I don't think I could stand school." On the other hand, two had directly opposite replies, one saying: "Sports matter to me, more than grades because I don't plan to go to college," and the other saying, "Without good grades how are you going to get anywhere later on."

The freshmen have shown that they have what it takes to carry on Hoover tradition, and there is little doubt that they will succeed.

Class of '82: Not the youngest

Finally, the sophomores aren't the youngest students at Hoover. With the enlargement to a four year high school, the sophs rejoice. The burden of short jokes from upperclassmen is lifted from the sophomore's shoulders and placed on the freshmen. When the sophs were asked how they felt about having a four year high school, their replies were: "I wish they would have had it sooner and it isn't fair; we should have been able to be in high school a year sooner too."

The sophs who longed for the cool airconditioning of Hoover were greatly disappointed in the first few months of the school year. With President Carter's Energy Law, the thermostat is set at a blistering 78 degrees.

The students consider themselves lucky if their next class has a fan. Remember the warm open lunches? Those days are long past. If you look in a classroom, the majority are wearing their winter coats as the thermostat is set at 65 degrees in the daytime- even when it's snowing. The sophs opinions on keeping the school at 65 degrees were: "I could work better if it wasn't so cold." "It's good, because we are conserving energy." "It's freezing in gym, so we shouldn't have to dress." "I don't mind."

Another first experience for the sophs this year is open finals. Finals this year last three days, with two two hour tests a day. While most students enjoyed the extra time for lunch, some stayed at school during the break to study. The sophs this year are involved in sports, music, debate, and student council, to name a few, and it's certain the class of '82 will meet the traditional Hoover goal and will rise to victory!

Juniors face decisive Senior year

The 1980 juniors of Hoover find this- the sandwich year of high school- to be one of decision making and reflection.

Juniors face the usual big decisions such as: whether to attend college, where to go to college, how to finance a college education, whether to get a job, and that age old and perplexing question of what to be now that you're practically grown up?

Influenced by American Ideas, some juniors become highly philosophical in this-their final year before "the big eighteen", while others look forward to an early graduation and entering the job market.

While each junior plans for their "big" senior year in their own way, all are unified as members of the class of '81, and each is enjoying this final year of fun and relaxation.

The junior class this year makes up a large majority of the students active in school organizations. As in past years, chemistry is still considered to be one of the more difficult challenges, Dr. Mann still grades too hard, and, for those juniors who have Mr. Adams for U.S. History, it is still possible to have a nightmare in which you are suffocated with transparencies.

Jacquie Utterback strikes a reflective pose after defeat in the district cross country meet.

Shelly Still

IN MEMORY OF SHELLY K. STILL

The early weeks of the school year were saddened by the loss of junior Shelly Still, who died tragically in an automobile accident on September 13, 1979. Classmates, teachers, and friends remember her as someone with a ready smile and an open heart who was always easy to talk to. The halls will always seem a little emptier without her.

The Class of 1980 Awards Assembly begins as assembly chairmen Julie Cook and Laura Tharnish welcome the best senior class in Hoover history. Greg Witke, President of the Senior Board, speaks briefly on "Our Years at Hoover" followed by the presentation of "The Ladder of Success" to junior Tracy Parks and the traditional rose, as a symbol of friendship, by Mr. Bill Springer. Numerous certificates of achievement are awarded to outstanding students in both academic and extra curricular activities, followed by the presentation of the Superintendent's awards by Mr. Gerald Dockum. Tim Brown, Chris Gurnas, Bill Houghton, Doug Langbehn, Sue Martin, and Marlene Priebnow become the largest group ever to become National Merit Scholarship finalists- Langbehn is also a Presidential Scholarship finalist. Debbie Linn sings "To Sir With Love" as the final farewell.

1. President of the Senior Board, Greg Witke, reminisces past years at Hoover as Julie Cook and Laura Tharnish share in the reflective mood.

2. As the 1979 recipient, Tim Brown presents "The Ladder of Success" to junior Tracy Parks.

3. Tom Aceto proudly receives his certificate of achievement in basketball while surrounded by the other 1980 sports captains.

4. Mr. Bill Springer presents the traditional rose to Greg Witke, who accepts in behalf of the 1980 graduating class.

5. Ann McLaughlin bubbles with joy after receiving her certificate of achievement in orchestra while Mary Sanderson, Rachel Braverman, Sue Martin, Brad Bergman, Russ Hellmer, and Marlene Priebnow look on.

The 1980 Senior Board, led by President Greg Witke, and with the help of Mrs. McManus is very successful in making the Class of 80 a class to remember. The huge success of the Senior Banquet, Breakfast, Awards Assembly, Prom, and Graduation is obtained by the careful planning on the part of the Senior Board. The Class of 80 is commended for its outstanding attitude and behavior as the students themselves make these activities a success. Fund-raising projects include selling directories, donuts, graduation announcements, namecards, tassels, and the midnight movie.

Senior Board shows leadership

1. Christy Nebel and Cheryl Marshall try to make the big decision of what donut to eat as Julie Peterson, Laura Tharnish, and Sandy Supsticks look on at the Senior Breakfast the last day of school.

2. 1980 Senior Board: (l-r) front row, Brenda Belcher, Tim Brown, Tammy Dillenburg, Lisa Brubaker, Dana Wilson, Greg Witke. second row, (l-r), Julie Cook, Laura Tharnish, Sandy Derby, Christy Ulin, Anita Huntoon, Mandy Gillaspey, and D.D. Hartsuck.

3. Jeanette Whiteside smirks as she is fitted for her cap and gown.

4. Brenda Belcher, Julie Cook, Laura Tharnish, Jayne Short, Lisa Brubaker, and Jill Truslow make a toast to the future success of the Class of 80.

2. Linda Walker and Pam Rabon flash a quick smile at the camera as they make their entrance to the banquet.

3. A group of seniors assume the traditional banquet pose as they raise their glasses in memory of days gone by.

4. A group of seniors sing their farewell to the Class of 1980.

5. "A funny thing happened on the way to Senior Banquet," suggests the look on Chris Gurnas' face as he speaks to the class.

Seniors find own "Corner" of sky

"Corner of the Sky" is the theme to this year's Senior Banquet held at the Adventureland Inn and features Mary Sanderson singing the theme song. Other musical numbers include "The Rainbow Connection" and "Times of our Lives". Speeches are made by Anita Huntoon, Chris Gurnas, and Bill Houghton on the past, the present, and the future. All students in attendance enjoy a steak dinner and lively conversation. Special guest, Mr. Gerald Dockum later said, "this year's banquet was one of the finest", and Vice-principal McManus agreed. Special thanks were given to banquet chairman, Dianne Avgerinos who made the 1980 Banquet a "smashing" success.

6. Dianne Avgerinos feels the leg of her chair slipping off the platform as an unsuspecting Bill Houghton poses for the shot.

7. Luke Ginn and Jim Brichetto flash their All-American boy smiles at the camera.

The scene is Veterans Memorial Auditorium and Mr. Gerald Dockum is presiding. Commencement opens as Dr. Larry W. Sonner gives the invocation, followed by the Hoover Symphonic Concert Band and Concert Choir performing "Battle Hymn of the Republic" and "America, The Beautiful" accompanied by Brad Bergman. The guest speaker is Mrs. Mary Jane Odell who speaks of fear and courage to overcome it, followed by the presentation of the Jayne Hentges Humanitarian Award to Mary Boatwright. After Mr. Gerald Robinson, Assistant Superintendent fo Schools, presents the class for graduation, Mr. Ian G. Binnie performs the presentation of diplomas. Susan Glen closes the Commencement ceremony with the Alma Mater.

Seniors bid a fond farewell

Who would have thought in the fall of 1977 that the shy, timid, sophomore class of '77 would become the outstanding class of 1980. In 1977 this group of lost students, new to Hoover, were unsure about their classes, their new teachers, and were waiting for the opportunity to meet new friends. Well, after three years at Hoover, we've made friendships to last a lifetime and are respected as one of the most outstanding classes in Hoover's history.

We all have memories from our early years at Hoover. Some are good, and some are bad, but we won't soon forget our days and evenings at Hoover. The plays we've seen, the football and basketball games we've cheered at, and the many academic and extra curricular activities that we've enjoyed have filled our lives and made our years at Hoover worthwhile. Who will forget when Cool Carl went sliding half-way down the lane in bowling on his rear, Jeff Bringenberg's reign as Homecoming King, or when Diane Avgerinos fell back in her chair at Senior Banquet? Hoover will never be the same.

Going to McDonald's® is almost as much a part of school as going to class. You've made us the place to meet, to talk, to have a good time, to celebrate your victories and help forget defeats. You've made McDonald's more than just another place to eat. And that's why, at McDonald's, we do it all for you.

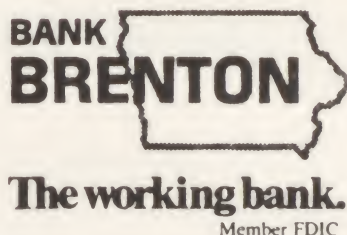

P.S. Some of our best friends are Huskies!
